

Upcoming events

- Following the success of our first webinar, we would like to inform you that the next ENDietS webinar will be held on 21st May 2015 (19:00 CET)! If you would like to be one of the next speakers on our webinars, please mail us at ENDietS@efad.org.

All kind of topics could be considered, such as:
 - Certain projects or campaigns you have been working in
 - Presentation of your research (this also applies for those students who made a contribution for the e-journal)
 - An interesting case study to share and discuss with us
 - Presentation of a unique health initiative
 - Demonstration of interesting or innovative educative material for dietetics
 - And all other activities that could be interesting to share with all dietetic students
- The website of the 9th EFAD Conference had been launched and registration is now possible. Until June 1st you can register for the Early Bird fees! This year, there is a special Student's Programme, including interesting presentations, interactive workshops, social events and the General Meeting of ENDietS!
- The next call to the "EFAD E-journal" is out! Read the 4th call for abstracts, information and instruction to authors here. For more information about the submission process and the past E-journal issues, click here.

ENDietS activities

- ENDietS attended the event "Days of Health Care Professionals" in Berlin, 17-18 April 2015, where health care professionals discussed about the possibilities of interdisciplinary work in the health care system, necessary changes in the education system of health care professionals and ENDietS met the Bundes-Studierenden-Vereinigung der Gesundheitsberufe!
- ENDietS attended the webinar "Challenging the myth of cheap food" from LifeWell for LIFE on 31 March. You can watch the recorded webinar on LifeWell website here.

Trending on ENDietS Facebook page

- "Beat the allergy", an interactive game that can be useful in teaching young patients about allergies, featured on <http://www.coolfoodplanet.org/>.
- "Life with a Food Allergy", an animated video from EUFIC, about food allergies and allergen labeling
- Giralda brought to our attention Prezi (www.prezi.com), an interesting presentation software

