ENDiets Career day

Have you graduated in nutrition and/or dietetics (or another related subject). Are you working as a dietitian? We hope that you are enjoying your first job in your chosen career!

If you could spare a little time, we would love to hear from you. Do you have any top tips for students aspiring to follow in your footsteps?

Have you got any useful tips on interviews, CVs or job applications that you wish you had been told before you started looking for your graduate role?

We would also love to hear about your first job: what you are doing and how you are enjoying it!

Please contact us at Endiets@efad.org!

Don't miss our next Webinar: Wednesday 23/11/2016 at 19:00 CET

'Nutritional Education in 2025: A challenge or adventure?'

Lena and Melanie will be discussing how technological and social advances are likely to change our future environment...

- Will it mean nutritional educational professionals are no longer needed in 10 years' time?
- How can professionals be heard and respected in a society with an overload of information?

- How can the general population access the science-based nutritional education and prevent them following inaccurate nutritional advice?

In this project, a vision was created of what nutritional education would look like in 2025. From that, recommendations and a pathway were created specifically to allow the FrieslandCampina Institute to be prepared for nutritional education in the future.

This presentation will give important insights and future perspectives to consider around this topic.

We are expanding our Social Media

facebook

twitter

Our new Social Media Anchor Rebecca is working on developing our ENDietS social media platform. Look out for more information in our next bulletin and get ready to 'like' and ENDietS to help raise our profile internationally!

Upcoming events

The 19th Nutrition and Health Conference will take place on Friday the 18th and Saturday the 19th of November in Brussels (Belgium). A series of current topics within the domain of food science will be discussed by experts from Belgium as well as other countries. This conference would be especially interesting for students from Belgium, The Netherlands, France and Luxemburg. We will have an ENDietS/EFAD exhibition stand there, so make sure to come say hello!
